"THE INDIVIDUAL IS WHOLLY AND SOLELY THE PRODUCT OF HIS HEREDITY AND THE ENVIRONMENT IN WHICH HE FINDS HIMSELF."

INTRODUCTION

Many emigrants named "Gilmore" landed on these shores between the year 1718 and 1800. They originated in Scotland, but had lived for nearly a century after 1625 in northern Ireland. Long before 1718, "Gilmores" from England, who may have been of Scotch descent, emigrated to this country. The name is spelled variously "Gilmer", "Gilmore", "Gilmoure" or "Gillmore", and in one form or another is found in every state; several towns bear the name. This book is written of those who spelled the name "Gilmore" with an occasional exception. They came first to Massachusetts but very soon settled in southern New Hampshire, where they built mills and were skilled mechanics unlike their neighbors who were weavers and farmers. One of the Gilmores went as far down south as Arkansas to establish a Thread Mill; most of them settled in the northern states, where they engaged in manufacturing and commercial business. Many of the "Gilmores" served in the Revolutionary War, in the War of 1812 and in the War of the Rebellion. The identification of the names John, James and William found in the war records is a difficult matter. I have never found a Gilmore engaged in the manufacture or sale of intoxicants or addicted to their use; they do not appear in litigation. Their descendants may well be proud of a lineage peaceful, industrious and prosperous.

In compiling these records I have received the help of Mrs. J. C. Durham of Belfast, Maine, a very persistent investigator who has known many of the Maine branch and is an authority on genealogical records of the state; also of Mrs. Donald K. Moore, a Gilmore descendant and the State Consulting Registrar of the Michigan D. A. R.; of Mrs. Phebe Bailey of Haverhill, N. H. and of Mrs. Frank A. Gilmore of Somerville, Massachusetts.

The originals of the James Gilmore commissions are now in the possession of Granville Gilmore of Montreal, Canada.

The Gilmores of Bedford, Methuen and Cambridge, Vermont, have lived close by the Londonderry families but are not known to be related.

The records of the first two generations of "Gilmores" as given in a number of town histories are wrong. By extensive research and not by inference I feel confident these errors are now corrected.

1 Robert Gilmore of Scotch descent born near Colerain, County Derry, Ireland about 1670, died in 1750. He married Mary Ann Kennedy of Coleraine. They came to Londonderry, N. H. in 1719, bringing the following children:

- 2 William born 1685
- 3 Robert born 1699
- 4 John born ---- died unmarried
- 5 James born

These records have been accepted, generally, although not proved.

At a Proprietors' Meeting in Londonderry, N. H. in 1729 it was, "Voted that our Selectmen Shall have no liberty to acquite Robert Gilmore and his son Joⁿ from payeing Rates." It is also recorded that Robert erected a "Fulling Mill" in 1724. This was on the "Cargill" land and not far from "Beaver Pond".

Robert Gilmore of Londonderry---"for divers good causes & Considerations moving me hereunto"---conveys unto James Gilmore and Will^m Gilmore all of y^e town of Londonderry one Messuage or tract of land in Londonderry

History of Lorain County, Ohio, (1879), gives the following information:

Edmund Gillmore, came to Black River from Chester Hampshire County, Massachusetts, in 1811. He was accompanied by his son Aretus, and a nephew, Ashbel Gillmore, and his family. He selected a location on lot 22, erected a house, and leaving Aretus in charge, returned to Massachusetts for the rest of his family with whom he arrived in June of the following year.

Ashbel Gillmore not liking the level, wet lands of Black River, had been conveyed by his uncle to the hills of Geauga County, where he found in the township of Chester, in that county, a location more to his taste.

Mr. Gillmore, senior, built the first frame barn in the county. He was a large owner of land, having at one time, nearly a thousand acres, most of it in this and Amherst townships.

Under Amherst, Ohio: Deidamia Moore Webb, wife of Reuben Webb...had one son, Adoniram, whose adopted daughter, Ora Webb, had the honor of having been the first bride in the township, having been wedded to Aretus Gillmore in 1819. Mrs. Gillmore lived to see her 83d birthday...

From Ohio records:

Quartus went to the Western Reserve in Ohio in 1810, but soon after went back East, and in 1812 he went to Lorain, Ohio, making the journey overland in wagons. For many years he served as a Magistrate, and was appointed the first Trustee of Black River Township in Lorain County. About 1830 he became one of the Incorporators of the Village of Charleston, now the City of Lorain. He spent the best part of his life there in successful farming.

Mrs. John S. Reid, whose maiden name was Anna Schuyler, was a descendant of the Schuyler family of the state of New York...Mrs. Quartus Gillmore, then Elizabeth Reid, came to Black River (now Lorain) in 1811, when it was but a wilderness. Her father John S. Reid, took up land here, erected a log cabin where they commenced active life. Miss Elizabeth Reid, with her two sisters, Ann and Sophia Reid, did all the ferrying across Black River in flat bottomed skiffs. ...Miss Elizabeth Reid, afterward Mrs. Quartus Gillmore, was the mother of...four boys and four girls; Elizabeth, Sophia Roxana and Alice; General Quincy A., Edmund, Quartus and Cornelius Reid, of whom all but two are living, (Quincy A., the eldest, and Alice, who was Mrs. James Connolly).

The biographical records of Huron and Lorain Counties give the following account: Mr. Gillmore was b. in April 1805, in Hampshire County, Mass., 7th in the family and the only survivor of 8 children born to Edward and Elizabeth (Stewart) Gillmore, both also natives of Massachusetts. In 1812, they came to Lorain county, the journey from Hampshire county, Mass. being made overland with teams, and occupying 30 days. They located on land on the shore of Lake Erie, two miles west of the mouth of the Black River. Here they opened out a farm on which they passed the rest of their busy lives. The mother d. in Feb. 1844, the father on April 9, 1846...Alanson was 7 years old when his parents brought him to Lorain county...Till he was 21, he worked on a farm. For over 30 years, he was employed as a ship builder, working chiefly in the principal cities along the lakes.

On Feb. 23, 1833, he m. Miss Evaline C. Jones, a native of Connecticut, whose half brother came to Lorain, Ohio in 1818. To this union were born 5 children. (All yet living except one), as follows: Adelaid E., wife of Edmund Gillmore, of Lorain; Simon A., married and living in Lorain; Joel M., a seafaring man drowned in Lake Michigan, July 2, 1886. 48 William² --Robert¹

born Feb. 25, 1825 Lorain died Apr. 11, 1888 Brooklyn, N. Y.

married 1849--Isabel O'Maher at West Point, N. Y.

The History of Lorain County (1916) says of him:

In his special field as a military strategist one of the ablest was Quincy A. Gillmore, who was born in the Black River community, now the City of Lorain, Feb. 25, 1825, and during the war earned an international reputation as an organizer of siege operations and a revolutionizer of naval gunnery. A son of Quartus Gillmore and wife. As a boy he attended the Norwalk Academy and the Elyria High School. He began to study medicine and wrote for publication. There was a vacancy at West Point,...and Gillmore was recommended because of his integrity and scholarship...He acquitted himself with credit as a cadet, graduating in 1849 at the head of his class and entered the service. General Gillmore's fame as an artillery officer was established during the siege and capture of Fort Pulaski, Georgia, in 1862. At this siege and bombardment he planted his batteries at distances which previous to this time were thought to be suicidal, but in less than two days he reduced the fortress which had been pronounced by eminent engineers as impregnable. It has been well said that General Gillmore's cannonade and capture of Fort Pulaski revolutionized the naval gunnery of the world and extended his fame throughout Europe as well as America. For this service he received the brevet of lieutenant-colonel and was made brigadier-general of volunteers April 28, 1862. His next notable success was with the noted "Swamp Angel", a gun used in the siege of Charleston...

Later with the Tenth Corps, he took part in the final operations of the Army of the James River. He was breveted four times for meritorious conduct, the last time as major-general United States Army "for gallant and meritorious conduct in capturing Forts Wagner and Gregg and for the demolishing of Fort Sumpter". He resigned his volunteer commission as major-general in December 1865.

After the war, General Gillmore was engaged upon important engineering work, and his name is most intimately associated with the improvements of the harbor at Charleston and Savannah and with other like works along the Atlantic Coast, and as president of the Mississippi River Commission, with the great works which have been projected for the rectification of that important waterway. His treatise on roadmaking and paving is regarded as the highest authority. He died at Brooklyn, N. Y. April 11, 1888.

This history of Lorain County, Ohio 1916, gives this interesting sketch:

Edmund Gillmore was born in Black River Township of Lorain County, February 10, 1833, and died at the City of Lorain on Thanksgiving Day in 1902. He was educated in the public schools of his native township, and at the age of fifteen became an employe on one of the lake boats, making trips to Oswego, Chicago and all the lake ports. He was a sailor for ten years and was also employed in the ship yards around Lake Erie, working as a ship caulker. While thus employed on one occasion, he received a severe injury which made him an invalid the rest of his life, and for forty-two years he never walked a step. However he was able to attend to business and filled various local offices, such as justice of the peace, treasurer of the school board, assessor, township clerk for 15 years, and for more than twenty years as notary public. He was first elected justice of the peace in 1863, and served in that capacity 39 years. For ten months he was with his brother, General Gillmore, in New York City acting as shipping agent and assistant draughtsman. He was an active republican and a man of the highest character.

In 1857 Edmund Gillmore married Miss Adelaide E. Gillmore, a daughter of Alanson and Evelyn (Jones) Gillmore. Her father came out of Massachusetts about the same time as the other members of that family, and was identified with the early shipbuilding interests at the mouth of the Black River. He was later a farmer, and in 1880 removed to Lorain, where he died when about 90 years of age. Mrs. Edmund Gillmore was born Nov. 22, 1833, on Washington street in Lorain. She spent practically the entire eighty-two years of her life in one community, and saw a village of 300 inhabitants grow and develop to a city of more than 30,000 people. She was the devoted companion of her husband for nearly half a century, and many tributes were paid to her as a pioneer woman of Lorain County at the time of her death in July 1915. She was one of the early members of and for many years an active worker in the First Congregational Church, at the corner of Washington Ave. and Fourth Street. She was also one of the members of the Old Friends Circle which was organized in 1888, and until her death, she never failed to attend each annual meeting of that organization. For forty-four years, Mrs. Gillmore occupied the old homestead on Washington Avenue opposite the City Park. Mrs. Gillmore's only surviving sister is Mrs. Fannie Wilford of Lorain. The only son and child of the late Edmund and Adelaide Gillmore is Quincy A., now a prominent attorney at Elyria, and mentioned in the following paragraphs.

Quincy A. Gillmore, named in honor of his distinguished uncle, the late Maj. Gen. Quincy A. Gillmore, one of the greatest soldiers and engineers produced by Lorain County, and whose career is briefly sketched on other pages, the subject of this brief article has for more than thirty years enjoyed high standing and esteem as a lawyer and citizen of Elyria.

A son of the late Edmund Gillmore, whose career has been presented in these pages, Quincy A. Gillmore was born in the City of Lorain, then called Black River, May 12, 1859. His youth was one of inspiring associations and excellent advantages. He attended the common schools up to 1872, following which he was for four years in the Elyria High School, was a student for one year in Oberlin College and one year in Western Reserve College and in 1881 graduated A. B. from the Ohio Wesleyan University at Delaware. He had already determined upon the law as his profession and after two years in the Cincinnati Law School was graduated L.L.B. in 1883. Admitted to the Ohio bar, he began practice at Elyria in the fall of 1884 and is now one of the senior members of the local bar...His law offices are in the Elyria Block...

On Nov. 27, 1884, at Delaware, Ohio, Mr. Gillmore married Miss Frankie G. Brown who was born in Delaware, a daughter of Jacob A. and Nancy A. (Graham) Brown, both now deceased. They have one son, Scott E., who was born in Elyria August 23, 1890. This son was graduated from the University School at Cleveland in 1910, spent one year at Case School of Applied Science at Cleveland and then entered Yale University, where he pursued a course of mechanical engineering and was graduated Bachelor of Philosophy in June 1914. He is now employed by the Warner-Swasey Company of Cleveland.

 William²--Robert¹

born May 1839

This interesting sketch is from the Ohio records:

Quartus Gillmore Jr., was born May 1839, a son of Quartus and Elizabeth (Reid) Gillmore...In 1866, he gave up seafaring life and was in the grapegrowing industry until 1882, when he formed a partnership with a Mr. Stang under the firm name of Stang & Gillmore, dredgers and pier builders. In 1888 they dissolved partnership, since which Mr. Gillmore has carried on the same business alone. In 1859, he m. in Lorain co., O. to Miss Mary Fitzgerald, who was b. in Michigan but reared in Lorain county, O., daughter of Almond and Mary (Root) Fitzgerald of Massachusetts, who in an early day came to Lorain county, where he died. Mr. and Mrs. Gillmore had four children: Quartus A. married and residing in Cleveland, O.; Mary Isabelle, wife of Theodore Burgess, of Lorain, who is employed on the C. L. & W. R. The following records I am unable to straighten out.

William Gilmore married Martha Dorr (sister of Hiram). She was born May 1803 and died Mch. 18, 1883. Two children are mentioned, Alice and Moses. Mch. 19, 1831 Martha Gilmore was chosen by her son Moses, as guardian. May 3, 1832 Capt. Clark Ela (b. 1780, d. Dec. 31, 1832) chosen by Alice as guardian. Both upwards of 14 years. William Gilmore married Feb. 4, 1847 Sarah Reynolds. Mary A. Gilmore, wife of W^m S. Gilmore of Derry, died in Haverhill, Mass. Dec. 14, 1901, age, 52.

In 1831 W^m, son of W^m and Martha, mentions in a deed, "my brother John".

In 1855 land belonging to the late William Gilmore was transferred by Daniel and Mary Gilmore of Galleyrock (Atkins) Arkansas, John Gilmore of Wiota, Wisconsin and Alice Gilmore Bradley of Brentwood, N. H.

John Gilmore, son of William and Martha, was born in Derry, N. H. in 1809 and removed to Wisconsin about 1850, and died there in 1864. His wife's name unknown. The children were Alice, who married George Schellenger and lived at Cherokee, Iowa, many years; Mollie married Charles Carroll and lived for a long time at Greely, Iowa; John Jr., lived in Wahpeton, So. Dakota about 1881 and in Corona, South Dakota in 1896 where he died about 1914 and is buried at Milbank, South Dakota; Georgia Anner, the youngest, married 1876 Mr. Tree and died in 1903, leaving two girls and one boy; Ida is married to Seth Hulbert and lives in Caputa, South Dakota. Alice is married to Harry Hartsough of Rockford, Illinois; Charles lives in Racine, Wisconsin. (This data of the Trees furnished by Mr. F. E. Tree, President of the Bank of South Wayne, Wisconsin, who is a half brother of the above children.

Alice Gilmore daughter of W^m and Martha born Feb. 1817, died June 27, 1882 in Brentwood, N. H. married Nathaniel Bradley, who was born 1813 and died Sept. 27, 1862. Their children were Lizzie, born Jan. 1852, died July 24, 1876 and Mary.

The following letter has been sent to me from Colrain:

George Patterson went from Londonderry to Pelham, Mass.
and was a prominent citizen of that town for some years...
His name first appears in the records of the town in 1745.
That year he signed a vigorous protest against the call to
Rev. Robert Abercrombie to become pastor---

In 1751 he was constable and his son James was born; in 1757 he was deer-reeve; in 1756 he was on the school committee
He was one of the company under capt. Robert Lotharidge, Col.
Israel Billings, who marched by the captain generals orders for the relief of the garrison and troops at Fort William Henry at the time it was invested in 1757; he was a surveyor in 1761; was allotted a church pew with William Gray in 1766; was "vendue-master" in 1769 and was one of the Committee of Correspondence in 1773 and also in 1777 and served as a selectman of Pelham in 1763, 1766, 1769, 1770, 1771, 1775, 1777, 1779.

His name does not appear later in the History of Pelham.

His son Adam was married in Pelham to Janet Rankin July 7, 1778 and his residence is given as Shutesbury. Adam served in the Revolution and perhaps settled in Colrain at the time of his marriage. The births of his children are recorded in Colrain and his eldest child, Betty, was born Jan. 5, 1779. Evidently his father soon followed him to Colrain as that is the last year he held office in Pelham or appears in the records. The descendants still living in Colrain are descended from Adam Patterson. I think others were here but have left no family as far as I know.

George and Margaret Patterson are buried in the North River cemetery, not far from where they first settled and where a George Patterson has lived for three generations; the last one within my own memory since I lived in town.

On the stones bearing the names of each generation it says:

In the name of God Amen. I John Gilmore of Rockingham in the County of Windham and State of Vermont husbandman being weak in body but of sound and perfect mind and memory, Blessed be Almighty God for the same Do make and Publish this my last will and Testament in manner and form following, that is to say

First I give and bequeath to James Gilmore my beloved Son all the notes and accounts that are due and coming to me at my decease and out of the same to pay all just debts and demands that against my estate and to give me a decent and Christian like burial at my decease and to provide for me and Margaret my Wife handsome gravestones.

I also give and bequeath to my said Son James the saw mill with all priviledges tools and utensils thereunto appertaining, together with all my farming tools and utensils for husbandry.

I also give and bequeath to my said Son James one yoke of oxen, two cows, and one horse out of the stock that are on the farm that are my property at my decease. I also give and bequeath to my said son James ten sheep and two third parts of the clock and my desk at my decease . I also give and bequeath to my said son James one feather bed together with the bedding and furniture and all my wearing apparel, also the use of two beds that are in the north two chambers together with the use of the said two chambers for three years after my decease.

I give and bequeath to the children of Margaret Gilmore alias McCurdy my Beloved Daughter one hundred dollars out of my estate to be paid in stock in two years after my decease to be divided equally among the said children.

I also give and bequeath to my said daughter Margaret two cows and six sheep at my decease.

I give and bequeath to Jenny Gilmore my beloved daughter three cows and one horse, and four of the best beds in the house, together with their bedding and furniture and one third part of the clock and one third part of the sheep and all the pewter and iron base and all the chairs and case of drawers together with all the remainder of the household furniture except two feather beds that are not otherways disposed of which two feather beds and bedding I order to be divided equally between my three children.

I also give and bequeath to my said daughter Jenny all the grain and meat and other provisions I have on hand at my decease.

And lastly I substitute and appoint James Gillmore my said son sole executor of this my last will and testament, and order him at my decease to deliver up to James McCurdy my son in law, the two notes of hand I hold against him with any demand. I likewise order my said executor to sell all my out lands I am in possession of at my decease and to divide the proceeds of the same equally between himself and his two sisters and all the remainder of the stock that are in my possession at my decease that are not otherwise disposed of by this will I order my said executor to divide equally between himself and his two sisters.

And further I order my said executor to see that all and every part of this my last will and testament, be duly executed and performed without fraud or delay. And I do hereby revoke and all former wills by me made nulifying and confirming this and no other to be my last will and testament.

In Witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal this tenth day of January in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and six.

The copy of the will of James Gilmoor, dated May 19, 1758, refers to "my Son in Law James Gilmoor and Augness Gilmoor his Wife". The original document is precisely the same, "Son in Law". In this will I notice that Gann Armour is first referred to as "Son in Law". The next item gives him as "Beloved Son". Another item says "Son Gann Armour". Evidently they were as careless about degrees of relationship as they were about the spelling of proper names.

Recorded according to the original

Note: The foregoing is copied from Vol. XXII, pp. 372, 373,
A comparison with the original document shows the statements to be precisely the same. I cannot understand about Gain Armour, executrix, when the will refers to Gann Armour, son.

Looking up the index, I find that the name Gain Armour of Windham occurs in eight deeds between 1754 and 1767. Gaan Armour of Windham buys land from James and Margaret Gilmore in 1750. Gein Armour of Windham buys land of John and Janet Wallace in 1753. Gawin Armour of Windham buys land from Joseph Clyd in 1762.

Could it be possible that Gain was a contraction of Janet or Jennet, wife of Gann Armour? It was most unusual for a woman to be executrix in those days, but R. Wibird, judge of probate, refers to Gain as her.

Col. James Gilmore was a soldier in the French and Revolutionary Wars and did valiant service, May 7, 1764. He was appointed Ensign of 7th Co. 8th Regt. by the Royal Governor, Benning Wentworth.

May 10, 1770 he was Commissioned Lieut. by Gov. John Wentworth, Sept. 5, 1775 the Congress of the Colony of New Hampshire appointed him Captain of the 3rd Co. 8th Regt. 1777. Dec. 2, 1775 the committee of safety authorized him to raise immediately a company of sixty one men to serve in the Continental Army and report to Gen. Sullivan at Winter Hill (Somerville, Mass.). He was elected Major by a vote of the town. He was commissioned Colonel of the 8th Regt. Mch. 25, 1785 by Meschech Weare, President of the State. (Windham history)

His service as Captain was in Col. Burnham's Regt. at Winter Hill, July to Oct. 1776. He was in Capt. Barrows' Co., Col. Wyman's Regt. in Canadian Expedition; Aug. 1778 in Col. Gales' Regt. of Volunteers for Rhode Island.

In the N. H. War Records--James Gilmore Enlisted April 28, 1758 and discharged October 4, 1758 from Regiment for Crown Point service.

The "Windham History" states that Col. James Gilmore married four times, and that one of the four wives was Mary the daughter of Daniel and Esther (Rankin) Clyde, born 1735, an early sweetheart of Col. James', also the widow of a Mr. Parker by whom she had several children. The available data makes the marriage with Col. James rather doubtful and the possibility of a fourth wife seems doubtful unless she preceded Agnes, of which there is no record. Agnes is buried in the "grave yard on the hill" in the "Range"; James and Jane in "Salem Centre yard".

James bought land at Moose Point, Belfast, Maine, on the westerly side of the Penobscot River. This was for speculation as he never lived in Belfast.

Windham town records, Apr. 29, 1802, ordered W^m Stevens, Collector, to pay James Gilmore forty three cents, it being for an abatement of part of his taxes year 1801, he having lost a horse in said year. Moses Whitcher, Collector for 1806, ordered to pay James $1.07 rebate, his tax being outlawed.

The first occupation of James was that of a Blacksmith.

An Inventory of the Estate of James Gilmore Esqr., late of Salem in the County of Rockingham deceased, appraised upon oath by us the Subscribers, duly appointed to that service by the Honl Nathaniel Rogers Esq., Judge of Probate of Wills &c for said County.

chosen as Deacon of the First Church in Belfast on May 27,

Williamson's History of Belfast

A Vote of the proprietors passed Mch. 8, 1769, "gives ten dollars to John Gilmore and John Steele for their first discovery of the land (Belfast)"; but at the next meeting this vote was modified by allowing Gilmore, thirteen dollars instead of ten, for his finding out said tract, and that John Steele shall have nothing".

Owing to the danger from Indian raids the Gilmores who were the first to settle in Belfast were obliged to return to New Hampshire for a few years and returning to Belfast when the settlement became a safer place to live.

Jonathan's name appears in Deeds from 1801 to 1818 as Blacksmith, Housewright, Yeoman and Gentleman, and Polly (or Mary) signs with him; he was living in Charlestown, Mass. from 1801 to 1815. Deed of 1801 refers to his brother Gawin; Deed of 1818 Jonathan, Gentleman, and Mary, living in New Ipswich, N. H. conveyed the homestead in Charlestown, Mass.

Land set off to Mary Widow of Jonathan

Pursuant to a warrant to us directed by the Hon Abel Parker Esq. Judge of the court of probate for the County of Cheshire and State of New Hampshire.

We the subscribers, having been first sworn as the said warrant directs, have appraised all the real estate whereof Jonathan Gilmore late of Charlestown in said County died seized and possessed within this state as follows, viz: being the home farm containing about seventy five acres of land with the buildings thereon, situated in Charlestown aforesaid, on which he resided at the time of his decease, amounting in the whole to the sum of $1100.00 one third of which is $366.67.

We then set off to Mary the widow of said deceased, for her dower or third thereof twenty acres and three fifths of an acre of said farm bounded and described in the following manner, viz: beginning at the northwesterly corner of said farm thence easterly by land of Asa Meacham & by land of Putnam about one hundred and ninety rods to a stake and stones being the corner of Joel Goss land thence southerly by said Goss land sixteen rods and nineteen links to a stake and stones thence westerly bearing a little to the left of a Parallel line with the north line about one hundred and sixty rods to a large low pine stump on a rise of ground between two brooks. Thence north fifty three degrees and twenty minutes west about twenty four and a half rods to the southerly post of the bars on the east side of the barnyard thence northerly by the east side of the shed and barn to the northeast corner of the barn thence westerly by the back side of the barn sheds and house continuing the same course to the highway Thence northerly by said highway to the bound first mentioned, reserving to the owner of the remainder of said farm the privilege of drawing wood across said premises in the most convenient place. Granting to her likewise the privilege of crossing the other part of said tract with manure to the easterly part of her tract.

We also set off one half the barnfloor in common and the north half on the beams over the floor and the bay in the northwesterly part of the barn, and two thirds of the length of the stable in the southwesterly part of the barn, measuring from the west end and all the walk between said stable and said bay except the privilege of the other parties passing and repassing through the same to the barn floor. We also set off a part of the barn yard beginning at the southwesterly corner of the barn. Thence southerly on the fence to the southwesterly corner of the yard being a post set in the ground being two rods and eight links from barn Thence westerly by the south fence eighteen links to the westerly post of the bars Thence northerly in a direct line to the door post at the southwesterly corner of the barn floor, with the privilege of passing across the other part of the barn yard to the floor with hay grain &c and from her yard with cattle to water, with manure and for all other necessary purposes.

Reserving the privilege to the other party to pass in and out at the back doors of the barn and around the east end with teams &c for necessary purposes.

We have also set off the northeasterly room in the house with the clothes room and cupboard attached to the same, with the privilege of cooking washing and baking in the kitchen and the privilege of passing through the same in and out at all the doors to the several apartments in which she has a right, with a privilege in the buttery and pot room and all the chambers in the house easterly of the east side of the chimney with the privilege of passing up stairs and across the other part to the same with one third of the cellar room being the northwesterly corner so far east east as the stairway, also the south cupboard in said cellar with the privilege to pass to and from the same.

We likewise set off two fifths of the woodshed next east of the well room extending across the whole building from north to south and equal privileges in the well room and at the well and equal privileges in the shed between the barn and woodhouse also one fourth part of the chamber in the woodhouse at the northwesterly part with the privilege for each to pass to and from their respective division, also the north part of the west dooryard as far as to the middle of the door and gate leading to the road with equal privileges in the door yard south to the southwesterly corner of the barnyard.

Amounting to the aforesaid sum of three hundred sixty six dollars and sixty seven cents.

William¹ Gilmore, probably of Scotch ancestry, sailed from Ireland when a small boy, perhaps ten years of age, landed in Massachusetts and settled in or near Worcester or Pelham, Mass. We do not know who he came with, or anything of his youth. He married about 1735 and this first wife died about 1740 and all his children are recorded in the Pelham records. William enlisted in 1757 for military service in the invasion of Canada.

William Gilmore's application for a pension is given in the following pages and no better evidence is needed of his loyalty.

The Cambridge records of Albany County, N. Y. state that William owned a farm of 150 acres in 1777 and that he was obliged to quit it for a time during the War.

I have had the records of Pelham, Mass. Cambridge and White Creek, N. Y. searched and do not find any clue to the marriage or children of William. His father went from Pelham to White Creek at a date unknown, and died there.
